

Knowledge Capture® Bulk Extractor

Simple Migration From IBM DB2 Content Manager

Knowledge Capture® Bulk Extractor is a software module that facilitates the migration of data and index information from IBM's DB2 Content Manager to any Content Management system, or to a file system, or CD/DVD.

Knowledge Capture® Bulk Extractor enables organisations to automatically export all, or selected groups of, documents, index fields, annotations and note logs from IBM's DB2 Content Manager in both their original un-edited format plus also in a version with any associated annotations, note logs attached and visible.

Content Manager Versions & Systems

Knowledge Capture® Bulk Extractor is a proven software migration module, used by clients around the world, created using IBM certified Content Manager programming interfaces. This ensures compatibility to migrate any IBM DB2 Content Manager system from version 7.0 through to 8.3 on any operating system such as z/OS, OS/400, Sun, AIX and Windows.

High Speed Document Extraction

Knowledge Capture® Bulk Extractor is a fully scalable application designed to support the extraction of small or large volumes of IBM DB2 Content Manager information, including a time critical multi-Content Manager system extraction or a high volume single system extraction. Based on Bulk Extractors' unique design, multiple document extractions can take place against either a single DB2 Content Manager system or multiple Content Manager systems enabling rapid document extraction and migration.

One Simple Price

Knowledge Capture® Bulk Extractor is licensed per Knowledge Capture Bulk Loader instance regardless of the document volumes, making high volume data extraction simple, fast and cost effective.

Low Risk Migration

Knowledge Capture® Bulk Extractor removes the need for expensive technical development to write extraction tools and processes, ensuring the lowest possible migration risk, while greatly reducing time and cost to move to a new content management solution.
